

Tactical Application of the Modern Tactical Wheel (simple): Breaking down the simple tactical wheel and applying it to modern bouts.

- Duration: 45 min- 1 hour
- Topics:
 - Discussion of the wheel and terms
 - Discussion over known common combatant guards, attacks, moves, etc.
 - Exercise:
 - Apply the move sets to the corresponding wheel actions
 - Discussion over footwork
 - Exercise:
 - Modify the previous wheel to reflect footwork
 - Discuss movement and how it can reverse or fast-forward the wheel
 - Intentions and mindset
 - Closing and discussion

Instructor Bio

Court Dyke is the head Epee and HEMA coach and owner of Wichita Fencing & HEMA Academy out of Wichita Kansas. His main focus as head coach is to identify his students wants, needs, and futurecasting of ability in their chosen sports discipline. Court does this by ensuring that his students have a passion for their sport and what it can do for their body as well as mind. And a healthy respect of traditions, experience of their peers, and teachings of others.

Wichita Fencing Academy has been in continual operation for the last 34 years in Wichita and Court took over as head coach from William Wells in 2017 and owner in 2018. At that time, he added HEMA into the disciplines that the WFHA was willing to teach and coach. Before that Court has been coached by Dustin Reagan out of Redlands Fencing, William Wells from Wichita, Jayson Barrons of DFHA, Jerry Benson of Oklahoma, David Sierra of Cutting Edge, Max Heinzer from the Olympic Swiss Epee team, and Jim Carpenter from the Olympic USA Epee team.

Court and his wife Amy run WFHA together and spend their free time with their 3 “fur” babies; Sherlock, Olive, and Charlie. You can contact Court, Amy, or WFHA at WFHAContact@gmail.com, Social Media: @WichitaFencingAcademy or 316-847-1772.